

PITCHING & CATCHING ACCELERATED TRAINING WEEKEND

September 24 – 25, 2011
Baltimore, MD

Baseball Factory's Pitching & Catching Accelerated Training Weekend will offer players the opportunity to work with top-notch members of our professional staff in order to hone position-specific skills.

Camp Benefits:

◆ Top Notch Instruction

Our team of coaches has included:

Pitching

Chris Yetter, former college player at Division-I UMBC and pitching and hitting coach at CCBC Catonsville.

Catching

Jason Scott, former college catching coach for Transylvania University and standout performer at West Virginia University Institute of Technology.

◆ Personalized Training by Position:

Pitchers receive over 60% of the available college baseball scholarship money. Let Baseball Factory's coaches' help you refine your pitching mechanics and increase your velocity so that you gain the attention of recruiters and scouts. Learn proper arm maintenance, how to throw sharp breaking balls, and how to carry out pick-offs.

Catchers are expected to be the leaders on the field. Through a series of specialized drills, players will master receiving and throwing techniques, blocking skills, mechanics for throwing out base-stealers and a game plan for calling pitches. There's more to being a successful catcher than just catching and throwing. Learn the techniques that can help you succeed and propel you towards college baseball and beyond.
