

UNDER ARMOUR RECRUITING CLASSIC

December 27 – 30, 2008

Kino Sports Complex

Spring Training Home of the Arizona Diamondbacks
Tucson, AZ

Players that are selected will represent Baseball Factory in the Under Armour Recruiting Classic.

You will participate in on-field training with our professional coaches and gain valuable experience by competing against national travel teams. You will also be filmed during your workouts to create a Personal Player Web Page to be used in your college recruiting.

The best way to improve your skills is by matching up against other high-level players.

All Players Will Benefit from:

- ◆ Four Days of Intense Competition – In four guaranteed games, you will have the opportunity to test your skills against some of your most talented peers. See how you stand up against the competition.
- ◆ College Recruiting Filming Session – As part of the Under Armour Recruiting Classic, you will participate in a Signature College Recruiting Program Filming Session during your workouts at the event. We will create your own Personal Player Web Page, which will include your performance on video, a detailed evaluation by our scouting staff and additional contact information. You will be able to email the link to your Personal Player Web Page directly to college coaches for recruiting purposes.
- ◆ Daily Training with Experienced Coaches – You will participate in daily workouts to help maximize your performance at the Recruiting Classic. It is important to develop proper mechanics through instruction, which will improve your success during games.
- ◆ Preparation for the High School Season – The more repetition and live game action that you see before the season starts, the more prepared you will be for your high school season. The combination of training and game competition will give you an advantage as you head into 2009!
